PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS MAKE FIGHT ON COUNTY TAX OFFICIALS

Say Coal and Real Estate Interests Control Board of Review—Margaret Haley Leading the Fight Against Favoritism in Taxation—Meeting of Teachers.

The organized Chicago school-teachers—3,500 of them who vote next Tuesday—have picked on the woman's ballot three candidates whose election they claim is the biggest single issue of this campaign.

Unless more money from taxes comes into the county and city treasuries the teachers say it is useless for Chicago to hope for more school buildings, a better school system and higher-paid school teachers. They also say the only way more money will come in is to get tax officers who can "come clean" and absolutely free from the domination of a big coal company and the big owners of downtown real estate.

Eight hundred teachers at a meeting yesterday in Delano school, Springfield avenue, pledged each one of them to see fifty other women voters between now and next Tuesday. The three candidates the women favor are:

Towner K. Webster for the Board of Review.

Walter C. Bruce for the Board of Assessors.

Lewis M. Smith for the Board of Assessors.
